

Greetings, Team 6A Students!

The sun is shining, and we are ready to begin lessons. Over the next 6 weeks, you will access your activities at kpslearnathome.weebly.com. Click on 6th grade, and you will see each subject area. Click on this week's lessons (Week 1: April 20 – April 24) in Science.

This board is about choice. The idea is that you should spend approximately 30 minutes a day on average each week on science. This is an average...if you want to make Tuesday your day to do all things science, go for it! Some items might take a little more, and some a little less. When you click on an assignment, the link will appear below your cursor.

Directions:

1. During the week, complete one or more boxes to help you learn the science content.
2. Then, complete the IXL listed: 6th Grade Science AA.2 and AA.3

Notes: These match up with the assignment boxes on our learning portal.

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Make sure you scroll to the correct SECTION! You do not have to do the written portions.• Instructions are listed for getting your own free BRAINPOP account.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Watch Bill Nye in action.• You may see items from different grade levels. That's OK! Take a look...this is an interactive reading assignment.
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Again, look for the correct SECTION. You don't have to do written work.• When you go to GIZMO, click on the map to start the activity. It will give you a rocket to click for launch.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Read this section. Look over the questions and try to answer. You do not have to turn in a written assignment.• Your goal is to get 10 answers correct.

When you have worked on the above (complete at least one box!), move on to the IXL assignment. I track your progress on IXL weekly. The choices you make from the box will help you be more successful on IXL.

If you need assistance, please reach out. If you want to share something you found interesting, I would LOVE to hear about it! I won't be staring at email 24/7; however, I will be monitoring my email all day long at least once an hour, up until about 8pm. I will get back with you as soon as possible. This is totally new for me as well, so we are all going to be patient with one another, right? 😊

Your 6th hour teacher will be your primary contact for items not directly related to the assignments themselves, so you will likely be hearing from that teacher more often than the others. Your teachers and I have been keeping in close contact since we last met, and we miss you all! Please feel free to reach out to any of us.

Stay healthy!
